To commemorate 50 years since the escalation of U.S. involvement in the Vietnam War, Humanities Kansas is launching a multidimensional, statewide oral history project in partnership with the Library of Congress. Through oral histories and memoir, stories will be collected of Kansans as they share their experiences, both at home and abroad. Contact the Library to share your story.

At the end of the project, participating organizations will have the opportunity to submit their collected stories from veterans to the Library of Congress's Veterans History
